The Committee is directed furthermore to express "a unanimous vote of thanks" of the general meeting to all and to every one of the ladies and gentlemen, both, here and in Montevideo, who contributed to this satisfactory result, either with their purse or with their personal efforts.

THE COMMITTEE

NOTICE—Mrs. NAGHTEN begs to advise her friends and the public that she has given up the lodging-house that she formerly had in this city, and to notify those who still have OUTSTANDING ACCOUNTS in her favour, that unless payment of the same, or as much as possible on account of the same, be made before the 31st inst. she will publish their names in full, as a preliminary to the necessary legal proceedings to recover what is due to her, being obliged to adopt these measures in consequence of her peculiar circumstances as a widow, dependent upon the honour of her patrons.

SCOTCH ENTERPRISE.

THE STEAMER BUENOS-AYREAN.

The Messrs. Allan Brothers, of Glasgow, like unto the Directors of the Buenos Ayres Great Southern Railway, have made hay whilst the sun shone; and availing of the low prices of stock, low wages and great trade depression, have added to their steam fleet this model steamer, which, we are informed, is the largest steel steamer afloat.

This is the fourth season of the Allan line of steamers trading with the Plate, and the fact of building this steamer for this trade, and calling her after the empire province of this Republic, leads us to suppose that our Glasgow friends have discovered that the River Plate trade is worth looking after. As we entered Montevideo on Sunday morning and first caught sight of the Buenos-Ayrean, we took her for a turreted man-of-war, owing to the peculiarity of her construction; but on Monday morning, accepting Captain McLean's invitation to breakfast on board, we started off, in company with Mr. Samson and Mr. Sagory, and had a thorough inspection of this novel steel steamer.

The Buenos-Ayrean was built last year by Messrs. William Denny Brothers, of Dumbarton; it took them about a year to build her. Her upper-deck, instead of being prolonged fore and aft, is rounded at each end, forming the shape of a turret-ship, it being in contemplation, should the services of the mercantile marine be called into requisition in times of war, this vessel could form part of a fleet of cruisers which would be at once at the service of Government as turret-ships for war purposes.

She has a double bottom fore and aft, this space being formed into six compact cells capable of containing 650 tons of water, which serves for ballast for the vessel when empty. In order that the most of her space be used for cargo, the usual cross-beams are done away with, and replaced by strong, deep, longitudinal frames. She has three steel decks, and the upper deck is steel covered with wood. Her gross measurement, or say cargo capacity, is 6100 tons, in addition to bunker space &c. The dimensions of the Buenos-Ayrean are 400 feet length over all, by 42½ feet beam; depth 32 feet; thus rather shorter than the La France, but of greater beam, depth and tonnage. Engines, nominal, 500 horse-power; effective, 2900 horse power, capable of propelling at the rate of 14 knots. She has four tanks, capable of holding 10,169 gallons, and fresh water condensers capable of making 120 gallons per hour, thus eminently adapted for the transport of live stock, and she has already a large number of sheep engaged for the return voyage; and, whilst we were in Montevideo, one party was trying to engage freight for 1000 sheep more. She carries seven large, polished teak boats; is barque-rigged, with double top-sail yards; has seven steam-winches and complete steam-steering gear. Her compasses are very attractive and are of Sir William Thompson's great patent, which affords the Captain means of correcting them on the least deviation. Until arriving off Lobos Island they required not the slighest correction. This patent is not as yet in general use, being very new and very expensive. She also is supplied with Sir Wm. Thompson's patent sounding machine, which enables the Captain to take his soundings without stopping the ship, and whilst going at full speed.

This majestic steamer, although chiefly designed for cargo, has splendid first-class accommodation for first-class passengers; and, for the Italian immigrant trade, might bring out with ease, comfort and accommodation 2,500 immigrants, such is the space of her monstrous decks. On the upper deck there is an elegant ladies' cabin, which, in the absence of ladies, might be made a smoking-room and reading-room for a Sultan. She carries captain, officers and crew, 67 men all told.

Capt. Niel McLean, commander,
Mr, David Earl, 1st. officer,
" Thos. King, chief engineer.
" Gray, purser,
" Sangsues, surgeon.
" McPherson, chief steward.

Throughout the ship are circulating steam pipes, which utilizes all the steam, and circulating water pipes with hydrants everywhere. We doubt if we ever saw a steamer more replete with what are termed modern improvements. Even the firemen and sailors have their hot and cold baths. We believe she cost to build about £70,000, and if ordered to-day would cost £100,000, owing to the rise in wages etc. A sister steamer is also being built for the Messrs. Allan, but not for this trade; she is called the Parisian, 440 feet long, 44 feet beam and 35 feet depth: she is for the Canadian mail service.

We have not now time to speak to the soaring industry and enterprise of the Messrs. Allan, the owners of this line, who, in a single generation, have sprung from the bench of a carpenter to be shipping princes of Great Britain; but, if our countrymen at home would consult more foreign views and foreign estimates of their character, they might avoid many of those great errors which the present sad state of affairs lays bare. The Allan brothers' fleet of steamers and of sailing vessels is a property of infinitely higher economic worth than the ancestral deer parks and magnificent estates that give title and influence and grade to their lords. Let any one consider the thousands of families maintained, supported and employed by the Allan fleet, and he will at once see that, whatever may be the severe lines drawn by a too artificial state of society, the true peers of the realm are the men who, by their honest toil and industry, work their way up to a throne built on the trade and commerce of the land, and beyond the aims of Nihilists, Communists, or revolution.

The following is a list of the sailing vessels of the Allan fleet:—

Some of the above are four-masted and are the fastest sailing shpips afloat. The Romsdal has made the voyage from New York to Liverpool in 14 days.

The Senegal's Mails.

London, Dec. 18th.

Last Friday General Roberts was compelled to evacuate Cabul and take up his position in the entrenchments which he had thrown up at Sherpur, in sight of the city. The retreat was effected with good order, but he lost one piece of cannon, and his casualties included 16 officers and 108 men between killed and wounded. So heavy a loss of officers shews the deadly nature of the conflict, most of them having fallen sword in hand, leading on their columns. Since Monday all communication is cut off, but we are told the little army can hold its own until released. The command numbers 7,000 men, and the supplies are said to be enough for five months. In the last telegram (Monday 15th) from General Roberts, he says the Affghans are about 30,000 strong. Lord Lytton at once telegraphed to General Gough at Jugdullak to march to Cabul, but this morning we have intelligence that Gough has found the passes in possession of the Ghilzai highlanders, and informs Lord Lytton that he cannot attempt to force a passage, as his division is too small for such an enterprise.

Meantime the snow is several feet deep, and even without an enemy to combat the intervening country from Peshawur to Cabul is 190 miles of very arduous journey. It is, therefore, probable that months must elapse before any effort can be made to rescue General Roberts, or even before we can learn whether the gallant little army at Sherpur still exists. It must be remembered that it took General Roberts five weeks, in summer, to advance from Peshawur to Cabul, and at the present season the difficulty is trebled. Reinforcements are embarking daily from Portsmouth for India, and troops are also hurrying forward from Calcutta to Peshawur. The telegrams say that General Gough's telegram to the Viceroy has caused a great sensation.

The painful news comes to damp the preparations for Christmas at many an English fireside. We can only hope that our brave countrymen will be able to hold out till March against the dastardly assassins of Cavagnari. Some of the papers here condemn Gen. Roberts for having hanged 49 of the Cabinet Ministers and officials as an act of excessive severity.

The winter in Europe is more severe than the last, being the coldest known for 90 years, and the frost having set in much earlier than usual. Relief Committees in Paris are doing much service to the poor; the Municipality and several rich citizens keep large fires burning in the streets day and night. Traffic has been stopped in the streets by the snow, which is being carted away in mountains. Here we have only had a few inches, but skating goes on briskly in the parks by night with torches.

Mr Drabble presided at the meeting of the River Plate Bank when a dividend of 8 p. cent per annum was declared. He said every provision had been made for the consequences of Mr Smithers' mistakes, and hoped that the Argentine republic would prove a good field for emigration, as there was a good deal of unoccupied land, and the wheat export promised, before long to reach a million sterling.

A Dull Headache, Costiveness, Low Spirits, and No Appetite, are some of the indications of a Bilious Attack, arising from a Torpid Liver. Dr Jayne's Sanative Pills will soon restore the Liver to action, drive all symptoms of biliousness from the system, and assist in bringing about a regular action of the bowels.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

Things in general were not particularly lively yesterday morning. There were no telegrams in the morning papers, save and excepting the exhilarating diurnal message from Montevideo to the Bolsa; the political leaders in our native contemporaries were as somniferous as usual, and the heat was just enough to make one wish for another Paris Letter about the frost and snow there, such as we published yesterday. The new candidate for the Presidency has not appeared yet, but when he does he will probably have backers enough. A couple of months more will decide this ticklish election and leave the country at peace.

The last number of the Correo del Domingo is very good indeed, containing no fewer than four fine portraits: First there is Dr. Rawson, a very good likeness: then Rear-Admiral Rivero of the Chilian Navy, whose features are so thoroughly Milesian that we have a strong suspicion he is a countryman whose real name, O'River, has been turned upside down in Chile: then comes Nick Pierola, the new Dictator of Peru, an 'hijo' all over, and finally President Prado, whose aristocratic bearing, handsome face and gold-slashed uniform would lead one to suppose he was Lord Chamberlain to the Queen rather than a Peruvian President with 1,000 chances te one against his dying in his bed. The reading matter of the Correo is very varied and entertaining.

The new Military Telegraph line to Bahia Blanca will be opened to the public on the 15th Feby., the day after Valentine's Day. Talking of February and its five Sundays this year, it is only once in three centuries, not three times in one century, as stated, that the month of Febuary counts five Sundays, at least so a friend who keeps the run of all this kind of thing told us yesterday.

We feel much pleasure in saluting our old and much esteemed friend Mr. William Perkins of Rosario, who arrived yesterday for a short sojourn in the metropolis, which we hope will prove a pleasant one. He reports Rosario as decidedly on the mend and business improving up there. The Capital Question is again the main topic with the Rosarinos, and this time it certainly looks as if they will hit the nail on the head.

Old Spain is entering the field of invention. The latest papers say that a patent has been taken out in Madrid for a new kind of tramway car which requires neither horses, steam power, nor rails, yet goes far quicker than the cars now in use and can be brought to a stand in half a second. Two Catalans are the inventors.

The Porteño says that the Welsh colonists at Chubut are very anxious to have Mr. Petit Murat, now 'official' there, made Gefe, as they 'idolize him,' and he speaks French, Italian and Portuguese as well as Gambetta, Garibaldi and Vasco de Gama. The question is, does he speak Welsh, or even understsnd it, to say nothing of English? Speaking French, Italian and Portuguese is a singular and not over strong reason why a man should be named head of a Welsh-speaking colony.

In Montevideo they have, some of the papers say, already commenced the annual Carnival horseplay with buckets of water and pomitos. A very wet Carnival may be expected on this side of the river. Last year water throwing was nearly as bad as ever, but the police did nothing.

The row about the destroyed Belgrano statue is still going on out there, and two or three 'jovenes alegres' are 'wanted' by the local Juez de Paz. Too much fuss is being made over this boyish lark.

Another big prize. The 20,000 pats. prize of the Montevidean Lottery drawn on Tuesday fell in this city. No. 12,020.

A letter from Vienna brings the following anecdote:—

"A fair lady, well-known in English and Irish hunting circles, has met with an extraordinary adventure. She was enjoying the pleasures of the chase in the neighbourhood of Saint Mehaly, in Hungary, and had retired to a peasant's hut for refreshment, in company with a couple of lady companions. Suddenly a Customs officer appeared, and said there was contraband tobacco on the premises. 'Tis true,' said one of the ladies, but the fine will be paid at once,' 'By whom?' demanded the officer. 'By her Majesty the Empress of Austria, who is inside,' was the answer."

Mr. Stant's letter in another column on Atmospheric Power is interesting. In London the mails and telegraphic despatches are blown about the city in the twinkling of an eye, and why should we not try the same system here?

Our estanciero friends should all have copies of the 'Estanciero's Guide' just issued by the well-known firm of Moore and Tudor of this city. So copious and varied is the information it contains on all matters relating to sheep, that with a copy of it in his pocket a man who did not know a sheep from a crocodile would become an excellent sheepfarmer in a week.

The papers say that there will be more 'comparsas' in the Carnival Corso this year than ever seen before. Very likely. There is a deal of frightfully discordant drumming

There is bad news from the Caroya Colony, Cordoba, one of the most promising settlements in the Republic, with land of surpassing fertility. The Drought has been so prolonged and severe that two consecutive crops of maize have been destroyed, and now there is no water in the wells, and the colonists are in imminent danger of perishing from thirst. A bad state of things.

and strumming going on about town, and in some neighbourhoods sleep is next to impossible 'till daylight doth appear.' As a general rule the playing of Carnival bands is admirably calculated to frighten a horse with any ear for music from his oats, even if he was starving.

Taking ice and beer to cool oneself this weather is the greatest of mistakes. Alcohol is the best cooler, and a tumbler of hot whiskey punch will reduce the temperature of the body better than any quantity of ice. The glow of heat felt instantly after taking a glass of brandy or whiskey is caused by the caloric passing from the body through the pores of the skin, leaving it cooler afterwards. A subscriber who has reduced his study of cooling drinks to a profound science has sent us the following. It is evident that Scotch whiskey is the best drink for hot weather, and after it Irish ditto.

A letter from London says:—

"The Duchess of Connaught has had a very narrow escape of being run over in the streets of London. The Duchess, with her husband, had begun to cross Piccadilly, when a hansom cab dashed down. The Duke seized his wife, who was a pace in front, and drew her coolly to his side with a jocular remark about looking ahead. When the Premier walks down to Parliament, an inspector of police, with a half-a-dozen satellites of his order, manages to be at the crossing to Palace-yard and the traffic is stopped; but the Premier is known to the police, and the Duchess of Connaught is not."

Nine ladies and seven clergymen were elected to serve on the London School Board at the last elections, in November. There are 50 members on the Board. A few practical ladies scattered through our School Boards here would do no harm, and we commend the idea to General Sarmiento.

The Western Railway receipts for 1879 are a round two millions currency over those of 1878. Good for the West.

The latest legal intelligence is that the first phase of the trial of Szmeredy, the Pole who murdered the unfortunate girl Caroline Metz in Calle Cuyo, will be concluded this month. The criminal is three years in prison. What a comment on our criminal procedure! Supposing (which is possible) an innocent man to suffer such a term of imprisonment without trial, what redress would he have for such monstrous injustice? None.

The storm on last Saturday night blew off dozens of roofs in the town of Paysandu, sent trees whizzing towards the moon, blew in hall-doors, blew out windows, and did a deal of other damage short of killing anybody.

Thus far we have got on smoothly enough with regard to financial affairs in connection with duties. No alterations are contemplated by the Finance Minister as far as I vouchsafe with anything like security. The only thing that seems probable to be put in force again is the publication of the valuations put on imports at the Custom House in the same manner as it was done before, more or less. The arrears in salaries are going to be paid in liquidations to be settled as soon as the Budget be covered. The imports have given a good Custom House income last month and probably will be the same this—reason of this is that people are getting ready their autumn and winter goods, securing low duties 'por si acaso.'

With regard to politics. Since President Latorre retired from office pro tem he has kept quiet at home for some days and has not been present at any of the fires that have taken place in town, though there were four in one night. He left town and was last heard off at about 30 miles away, in Canelones. I cannot make out whether he is really going to visit the departments or only one or two. Mr Montero junior, his Minister for the Interior, is also travelling about. My opinion is, that all this transferring of office into the 'ad interim' plan has some object over and above the one ascribed to it. It may answer to some combination which we shall hear about in due time.

We have been blessed with splendid showers of rain pretty near all over the country. So far good, and the Church-prayers seem to have answered the purpose. However the maize crops are not going to be lost, lest it be the early plantations. We shall have good fat novillos and good slaughter I presume—I was going to say I hope, but under the circumstances I will not, as we are getting up a sensation against bull-fighting and all such horrors, for all the opposition made by the Spanish population and their journals. We have had such full houses at the Circus (for the bull-fights) as we never saw before, owing to the Spanish bulls brought expressly from Spain. Many foreigners present, including General Caldwell who is a constant attendant and no doubt a decided amateur, Mr Prince of the concern of Prince, Webster and Co., dentists and Mr. Charles Jackson—all Americans and very fond of the game. There is an American chapel at the Union of the American congregation (Evangelists) and very poorly attended save by a few natives in the evening. We had a very fine game at the cricket-field on the 'dia de los reyes' but I have no particulars.

THE QUIET RAMBLES OF A YOUNG NATURALIST.

(No. 2)

(Concluded.)

Salto is built upon the same formation as Concordia, but is richer in minerals; as you walk on the outskirts you find whole walls built of fine agates, out of which I picked good specimens of rock crystal; if diamonds are not found sooner or later in this neighbourhood, I am much mistaken. We visited the pretty little English Chapel with its maximum congregation of seventeen as well as the adjacent school of sixteen pupils; the number of schools in Salto is incredible, and yet, notwithstanding its love for education I am very much afraid that ere long it is doomed to suffer the fate of Genoa and Venice, as foreign enterprise in Concordia is rapidly taking the wind out of its sails in the matter of traffic with the Brazils, to which it owes its very existence. The N. W. Railway from Salto is a feeble attempt to grapple with the difficulty.

Returning to Concordia, I was just in time to witness a bull-fight. The Governor in his laudable desire to provide amusement for his loving people during the eight days' feast, had invited a company of Catalans, professed bull-fighters, from the Montevidean side of the river, to exhibit their skill in an open circus erected for the occasion. The Governor himself acted as master of the ceremonies, and by means of his trumpeter gave on all occasions the 'laissez aller.' Curiosity led me to pay my dollar and a half to view the degrading spectacle which has been so often and so vividly described.

In the hastily constructed enclosure were gathered together 500 persons including two or three women. In came the company of seven, two picadores on horseback, armed with long goads, five matadores on foot dressed all 'en regle' as may be seen in pictures, and made their salaams to the spectators. Before the bulls, of which there were six, were let in singly to the arena, they were goaded in their stalls to make them savage, and then in the presence of the full company one of them was introduced, which the two picadores confronted and endeavored to provoke to combat. When the bull advanced feebly, they stuck their pikes into its forehead and by repeating the operation at last goaded the animal into something like rage. One of the horsemen missed his stroke and the bull gored his horse's flank, inflicting an ugly gash. The five matadores now advanced dancing frantically, shouting, whistling, and flourishing colored cloaks in the poor beast's face in order to urge it to charge them, but immediately it attempted to do so, they nimbly darted behind recesses, of which there were five, into which the bull could not follow them. One of them now emerging from his place of concealment, approached the animal with two doubly-barbed darts in the body of which moist gunpowder and crackers were inserted: his assistants attracted the attention of the bull whilst he quickly drove them into its neck and shoulders, and the pain, noise and smoke infuriated the beast; matters were now ripe to exhibit the dexterity of the 'primer espada' who entered alone the arena, armed with a long sharp sword, and a piece of red rag suspended from a staff, which he proceeded to wave in the bull's face. The animal refused to show any but feeble ferocity and on one of these occasions, making a slight advance upon the rag, the bull-slayer stepped on one side and drove the sword through the beast's heart, and it fell dead upon the spot.

The other animals afforded even less sport (!) than the first and had to be lassoed, dragged out and killed. The whole affair was a farce from first to last; neither the rest of the audience nor myself could discover in it any but the slightest risk to man. The cries, jeers and jokes of the spectators when the bull-fighters retreated to their dens, were very edifying: 'Mind, the bull is coming!' 'Take care, your wife will be a widow!' &c, &c.

The men, although heavy, were no doubt quick on their legs and very skilful in administering punishment, but with such peaceful victims, very Quakers who looked mildly into the face of their tormentors and whose passions could not be aroused by goad or powder, no person with a spark of nobility in his nature could view without pain what was simply a case of cruel torture unaccompanied by danger.

The last act of the entertainment (!) introduced a little more life; for having sawn off the points of the horns of a steer, he was introduced into the ring to provide amusement for the youthful idea of Concordia. About half a dozen boys were instructed by the bull-fighters and pitted against the victim, which they began to irritate in the usual fashion; but young blood is hot, they say, and so very shortly, up went the tail of the animal as it made a rush at one of its tormentors, who found himself turning a somersault in the air to his intense astonishment and dismay. The bullock was about to try the same game on another of his youthful antagonists, when with a skilful jump on one side, this tiro of twice six summers avoided the threatened toss and at the same instant buried to the hilt a straight, sharp sword in the very life-blood of his victim, which sank to rise no more.

The vivas, which greeted this piece of skill in one so young and perfectly unaccustomed to the ring, were deafening, and the appreciation of the audience, including the Governor, was further testified by raining down upon the youthful gladiator a shower of silver, so that his two hands united scarce sufficed to bear away the heap of Bolivianos, to which was added the carcase as spoil. With this the funcion ended and I was glad to breathe the purer atmosphere without.

Fearing to fatigue the readers of the Standard and exhaust the patience of its Editor, I now let fall the curtain.

SUCKING AND BLOWING THE MAILS

To the Editor of the Standard.

Sir,

Just two hundred and twenty-five years have elapsed since the then Burgomaster of Magdeburgh, Otto von Guericke, invented the air pump and astonished the Emperor of Germany at Regensburgh by exhibiting the apparatus in action. By means of his contrivance he exhausted a tube wherein a piston was fitted and made to slide easily, and thus raised a heavy weight to a considerable height.

Since the time of the ingenious and scientific Burgomaster who, it is some satisfaction to say, had previously been a student at Oxford University, England, many efforts have been made to employ atmospheric pressure in the performance of mechanical and industrial operations. Everybody remembers the various railway schemes on the atmospheric principle which from time to time have occupied the attention of our cleverest mechanics, and all know that they have been abandoned. Mr Brunel exhausted the patience of the shareholders in South Devon, and the Kingstown and Dalkey atmospheric line maintained its ground longer than any other, but as last yielded to the Iron Horse of Stephenson, viz, the Locomotive, or Puffing Billy of the Yankees.

From perseverance in the same direction as the worthy disciples of Otto von Guericke it may be mentioned that in one remarkable instance at least atmospheric pressure has been made subservient to mechanical art and is employed efficiently and economically. The coinage of the British Empire is stamped entirely by its force. I have not time, nor, I presume, space allowed to enter into a description of the beautiful arrangement of air pumps, vacuum chambers, levers, springs and valves by means of which impressions are given at the Mint with rapidity and precision to the coins which issue from that establishment. It must suffice to say, that the air we breathe literally coins the money we use, and that therefore there is yet hope for some of the numerous Engineers in Buenos Ayres. Doubtless we have Civil, Uncivil, Hydraulic, but as yet no Atmospheric engineers.

The atmospheric pressure may be made to transfer letters and parcels by wholesale from B. Ayres to Montevideo and other places, and should be the means of delivering our letters, etc., from vessels direct to our Post Office; the same steam engine would deliver the mails by sucking air from the tube and deliver same on board by simply blowing them. At the same time, as the delivery of mails is not constant, the steam engine fixed at the Post Office or the Mint could be the means of impressing the coins of the Argentine Republic, and become the Chief Coiner.

I simply suggest this practical and economical system for the benefit of those already benefitted, viz, the Argentine Republic.

I remain, Mr Editor,
Yours truly,
J. T. Stant.

There was a very small business done in gold; total sales of to-day 59,800. Prices opened for cash at 31.75 and kept 5 cents up and down all day, closing at 31 80.

Cedulas, as we reported yesterday, have grown suddenly firm and closed cash 8.⅜. It seems that 30,000 were bought to pay off a mortgage; sales for February and March at 82.

National Bonds of 1876 show a drop of one per cent, and were done at 66, and National Bank Shares very quiet at 60.

It was announced on 'Change that Mr. Sassemberg has been named Consulting Director of the R Plate Bank, an appointment that will meet with the fullest market approval, as we have no foreign merchant who stands higher or more generally respected than Mr. Sassemberg.

Exchange grew very weak to-day, due to the rumours that the National Government has entered the markt as taker; drawers of yesterday at 5.26 on Antwerp and 25 on Paris at once drew up and put their rates down to 5.24 Antwerp and Havre, and 5.23 Paris, and 49⅜ London. We have not heard of bills passed at these rates, although they say that a very large business is on the tapis.

The sale of five square leagues of land in Necochea by Don Federico Cibils, at the rate of 100,000 m/c. per league, to Sr. Olinos, merits notice, inasmuch as Mr Cibils only bought this land about nine months ago at 45,000 m/c. per league, and now more than doubles his money; this shows the money that is always made in land in this province.

Few transactions in this market have given rise to greater comment and remark than the sale to-day of a cargo of onions in San Fernando for export to Cuba. 600,000 Riestras or hanks of onions at 4 rls per Riestra, which gives to the producer a net profit of about 15,000 m/c per square. The onion is the most ancient crop in the world, and is prehistoric To so much importance did it rise on the Nile that the Egyptians adored it as a God, and the number of onions consumed in the building of the great Pyramid was marked on one of the stones of one of its inner chambers. Even to this very day there is no crop that yields more to the gardener, and the export of this cargo is the first of the kind ever known of in the Plate, and will we understand be followed by others.

The extract of the Great Madrid Lottery will be here about 20th inst. Vague rumours are current about the prizes drawn; it is well to wait for the extract.

We received to-day a very splendid sample of the new aguardiente, 38 to 40 grados, made at Messrs Halbach Hermanos & Co.'s manufactory in Barracas al Norte. We must congratulate Messrs F and Alex. Halbach on their great success, the sample being fully equal to the very best imported article. The manufactory is capable of turning out from 300 to 400 gallons per day; it is made from maize, the high price of which, of course, checks the production, but our maize crop this year promises to be splendid; so we may look forward to a large business by Messrs Halbach's distillery, which is the only one within the Municipio. Importers of aguardiente would do well to call and see the samples.

The names of the proposed new Directors of the National Bank are Messrs Rigal, Ocampo and Ledesma, all good men and who thoroughly understand the Bank affairs.

At the Government House to-day everyone was talking of the new line of steamers about to be run from Boston to Buenos Aires by Mr Samson, who asks for the usual subsidy.

The gold sales were:—

Business on 'Change at 4 o'clock ruled very brisk, bales offering freely to all the shipbrokers, and rates very firm. The exchange news was the most important, and we report the following transactions:—

Bills were also passed at 5.25 Antwerp, 4.26 Marks, and something done at 49⅝.

The Provincial Government exchange taken for last packet was known to-day. The Italian Bank it seems drew two millions francs at 5 21 Antwerp, and the Carabassa Bank £20,000 at 49½, interest 3 per cent.

The news from Havre to-day about wool was excellent, as appears by our telegram.

The sale in Havre of the Espartillar wool is reported at a high price.

The steamer Buenos Ayrean will be up in the morning.

Hessians last sale 18 rls., market dull, city being full of sacks.

The Elk sails to-morrow for Montevideo and takes Capt. Erskine, Com. of Garnet and senior officer of station to Montevideo.

We have received a letter from Mr Thiess, a well-known wheat broker, correcting our statement respecting his being a partner of Mr Herm. Altgelt, Mr Theis is only a clerk of Mr Altgelt in the branch of cereals and flour.

In our news from England, under the head of Senegal's mails, sent us by our brother, there seems to be more about Mr Smithers leaving the bank than known here.

The Pacific s.s. Liguria entered Montevideo to-day.

The Senegal's mails were landed from Porteña at half past 2 o'clock.

The sale of a cargo of tallow in Montevideo is reported at 16½.

The new project drawn up by the Camara Syndical of the Bolsa was given round to-day; as it must necessarily interest this market we give the following translation:—All the efforts both by private parties and by the Committee to build a new Bolsa having failed for the want of capital, the Camara Syndical, adhering to its views of an arrangement with the shareholders of the building, which is simply the abolition of all shareholder proprietors, proposes the following:—

1st—That the Camara be authorised to treat with the owners of the present Bolsa, or with the owners of other sites if considered expedient, for the building of a new Bolsa, and submit their labors to the Bolsa Socios at general meeting, and for the carrying out of such a scheme the Camara proposes the subscription by every socio of 2,500 for each share.

2nd—These shares shall enjoy an interest of 6 per cent per annum, payable half-yearly and amortised by lottery at par; each six months the drawing to take place until all shares amortised, and to each shareholder an allowance of $10 m/c per month in the subscription will be made.

3rd—Every socio will have a preferent right to one share each, and for a larger number if the required capital will admit of same, and until the shares are amortised only the socios who subscribe to this arrangement will have a vote.

In the year 1878, when the subscription was $50 m/c. per month, the board distributed a dividend of 20 per cent after deducting 37,982 for reserve fund, and this project will not require a greater outlay over 10 4/5th per cent, and moreover the shares will be slowly amortised and paid off. The Camara reminds the commercial body that by the proposed plan the commercial community will in a few years be exclusive owners of the Bolsa, when the subscription can be reduced to a minimum figure to cover expenses. If this project is accepted the socios will pay down 20 per cent on each share, and the rest in calls as the funds will be required.

A very important decision by the Courts, Fiscal and Administrador of Rents respecting the stamp act is reported on 'Change. It seems that an action being taken against a party for a certain sum of money which he admitted he owed in a letter he wrote to the plaintiff the Judge ordered the letter to be stamped and a fine paid for the want of said stamp. Against this decision the plaintiff appealed, as it was perfectly impossible for merchants to write their letters on stamped paper, or stamp every letter received; the appellant court referred it to the Fiscal who consulted the Administrador of Rents, whose opinion was in conformity with the merits and justice of the case, and reported that no such stamp was necessary, which opinion the Upper Court confirmed, which settles the point and establishes the jurisprudence in such matters. We conceive it useful for merchants to know of this decision.

The Prensa has done the State good service by exposing the system of public land purchases, which threw all the lands of the Government into the hands of speculators who resold the same to farmers and estancieros at double the price paid to the Government. We note that Minister Balbin and Governor Tejedor, attending to the exposee, have issued a decree reforming the whole system of public land sales, and calling from the land office for the fullest particulars of all recent land sales. The sale of one vast stretch of public lands out by Lincoln, 75 square leagues to Mr Anchorena is reported; it is said Sr Brizuela is the seller, and the price, we believe, is 5,000 m/c per league for enfiteusis right which makes the cost of the land say 65,000 m/c per league.

The steamer Comercio from Concordia entered the Boca yesterday with a large cargo of wool, hides and other produce to Mr. E Casey.

The Italian barque Ricardo cleared yesterday for Havre with the following cargo:

207 bordalesas tallow
153 pipes do
519 bales wool
26 do garras
1826 bags animal charcoal.

Mr W Perkins, of Rosario, was welcomed on 'Change; we understand he will remain a few days in this city.

The Brit. barque Geruvian, has been cleared by Messrs Woodgate for Chile in ballast.

The death of Dn Felix Bidart, a much respected merchant, was mentioned on 'Change: his funeral, which took place to-day, was largely attended.

Mr Posse, editor of the Pueblo Argentino, has been appointed Secretary to the Admiralty.

The Government has thrown open to public service the military telegraph line to Bahia Blanca, a wise and politic step.

Mr. Huergo has his dredge now hard at work within a few squares of Spinetto's, and will be up in front of that great corralon in a month. Mr Spinetto is about to construct a wharf along the whole front of his magnificent property; it will be the largest on the Riachuelo, and in connection with the Balcarce and Nouguier wharves now being made will be an immense improvement to the Boca, the most rising district in the Plate.

Yesterday an official breakfast party was held at the Boca. The Governor, Mr. Umbrella (or Uribelarrea), Mr. Peter Agote, Mr. John Drysdale, Mr. Saturnino Unzue, and Messrs. Lavalle, Silveira and Huergo, engineers, constituted the party, which started from the Mole at 6 a.m. and went round, entering the canal and steaming up the Riachuelo to the Tres Esquinas, where we were the other morning. We believe the Boca breakfast is the best to be had in this Republic, and likely to produce much good, as the more the Governor sees of the Boca the better.

We want some one to run a line of steamers between the Boca and Montevideo. Risso, or Bruce, or somebody ought to take this matter up, as it would pay splendidly. The going off from the old mole to the Villa del Salto last Saturday evening was the worst trip we ever experienced. It seemed as if all the Santa Rosas of Buenos Ayres ever heard of were rolled into one, and the boatman would certainly have swamped the boat had he been allowed his own way. Since we have the convenience of the Boca for our river steamers, it is really compressed nonsense to be anchoring in the inner roads.

The returns of the Western Railway for the past year are truly splendid—16 millions. We remember the time when it didn't give a million, but the trade and the line have both extended to the dimensions of the North-Western. The profits for 1879 are nearly two millions over those of 1878—same length of line and miles run.

The following table of the Spanish wine trade with this Republic has been most carefully prepared by a broker in the trade, to whom we return our best thanks for such invaluable statistics; we want the same figures about every other branch of our import trade:

We have received for publication the following—

B. Aires, January 14th 1880

To the Editors of the Standard,

Gentlemen

Kindly allow me a corner in your popular journal, to offer a few remarks suggested by an Old Trader's letter in your issue of yesterday.

I infer from the tone of Old Trader's letter, however old he may be in years, or in the trade that he is at least a long way behind this progressive age, and especially in a latitude which conduces so rapidly to the cutting of the eye and wisdom teeth, where in fact boys are men and men are old fogies. Where has Old Trader lived that he has not learned the latest invention? I presume not in Yankee-land or he would know better. Not to be mysterious in what ought to be generally known, I will tell him in a whisper that the latest discovery has been, that a certain metal when employed under certain circumstances has the property of converting the specific gravities of bodies in the inverse ratio, so also will certain and well known materials when applied similarly reduced or augment in volume any matter or substance submitted for test. Singular to say, it will do it effectively, no matter whether the barometer stands at 30 or 28, the thermometer at 60 or 100 Fareheit: in this instance there is no necessity for computed tables as in other instances for the correction of bulk.

Messrs Editors, your space is valuable, I will try to be brief. I will therefore confine myself to the question propounded by Trader. I believe, or rather I am informed, the Government has no officers to perform nor yet control the weighing or delivery of coal or lumber &c. the Municipality has under its charge and control the weights and measures. The operation of weighing and measuring ships' cargoes is simply a matter of private convenience between buyer and seller, in which the Government takes no part directly or indirectly, as far as I can learn. I presume it does not concern the Custom House Authorities, as they recover duties as per invoice, which is their case and concern; the maxim being let every man look out for himself and do the best he can to protect his own interests.

An Old Trader and others in the same situation have no other remedy under the circumstances but to look out for themselves by getting competent and trustworthy persons to deliver for them; the buyer on his part sending his agent to receive for him, but in no case to be the weigher or measurer; the buyer has always the facility to see that he has what belongs to him; the seller has not that option, he must depend solely on whom he employs. The price of a few tons of coal will insure for the ship or owner, as the case may be, the proper delivery, and put a stop to all tricks resorted to by many, but not all, interested parties. There are undoubtedly men in the trade who would not countenance or tolerate deception or fraud. At devolves then on consignee, owner, or Captain, as the case may be, to remedy the existing evil; it is in their own power; let them not look elsewhere for it.

SKIPPER.
